The factory is on the road again this year visiting venues to spread Christmas cheer. The dates will be announced soon. As in the years gone by, it is very important to me that we give back the music into the community during various times during the year and not only at Christmas. Everyone will have a chance to perform in any form, ensemble, duets, solo's etc and I will take in groups of 30 students at a time to these venues. Families are all welcome to attend.

The Factory follows the School District Calendar for holidays. There are lessons on all Pro-D days. Dennis and I have a new grand baby coming in December, so Friday the 18th is a non-teaching day. Also, my Grandson's birthday is always a non-teaching day, so October 30th is the date this year. We look forward to another FANTASTIC year!!!
